Shading

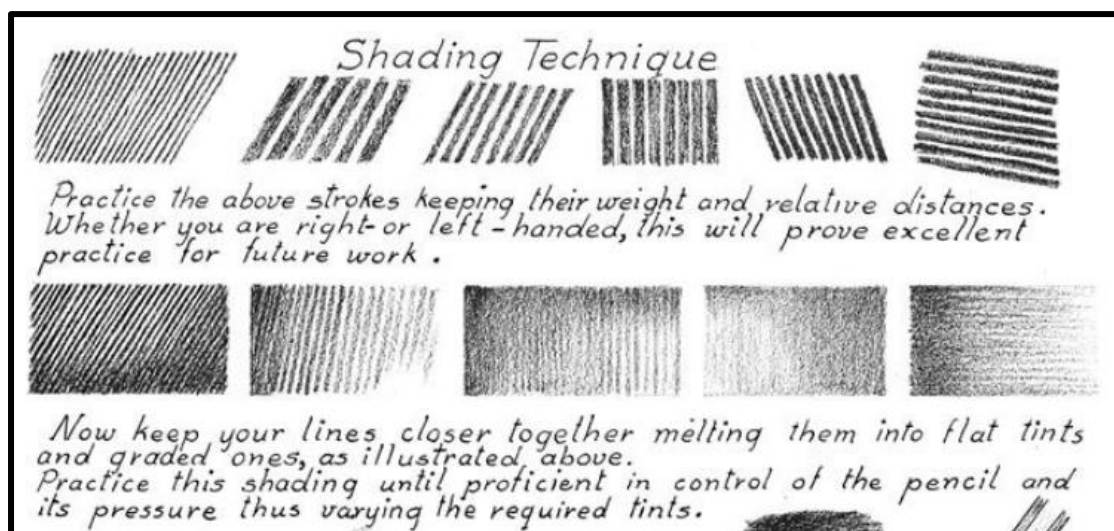

This week we will build on your observational drawings by focusing on shading and shadows. You will need to choose one item from your house and place it in front of you, on top of a piece of white paper as this will help you to see any areas of darkness or shadow. Try to set up your object in a bright room.

Look very closely at your object and notice where there is light and where there is darkness. You will notice that even the areas of darkness change in strength of darkness. We call this 'tone'.

Carefully outline your object, noticing the shape and detail. Then outline the shadow that has been cast by your object. Look carefully at the shape that has been created.

Now, using the different shading techniques below, shade in your object. Vary the strength of the shading to match the areas of light and dark you can see; you can do this using different techniques and the pressure you use.

We would love to see your exploration of shading, so please do send us a photo 😊
